RESTORED TO HEALTH

BY THE USE OF

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mrs. M. A. Cumming, of Yarraville, Victoria, Australia, says:

"About a year ago, I had a severe attack of influenza, which left me very weak, without energy, appetite, or interest in life. Obtaining little or no relief from doctors, or from the many remedies recommended to me, I finally tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and from that time, I began to gain health and strength."

I continued the treatment until fully recovered, and now have very great pleasure in telling my friends of the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and the happy results of its use. I consider it the best blood-purifier known."

THE LEGISLATURE.

THE SENATE STILL WAITING ON

THE LOWER HOUSE.

And Now the Young Men's Christian

Association Wants Exemption

from Taxation—House Notes.

Forty-Second Day, August 2d.

THE SENATE.

President Wilder called the Senate to order at the usual hour

this morning. Roll call, prayer by the chaplain and reading of the minutes.

A communication was received from the House stating that the bill creating the Labor Commission had passed its third reading;

also the resolutions on the Electric railroad commission and annexation.

Senator Rice from the Committee on Printing reported that the contract for the printing of the Joint Rules required the same to be delivered on July 12th. That the contractor had been notified

that he would not be paid this session if the work was not delivered today. It was understood

the Press Publishing Company

took the contract.

The Senate concurred in a slight amendment made to the Labor Commission Act.

The bill exempting the Honolulu Library from taxation came up on the third reading.

Senator McCandless moved an amendment that the property of the Y. M. C. A. be included in the exemption. He stated that according to the statements of its officers the latter institution had an average daily attendance in its reading room of 153, while the library only issued an average of 70 volumes per month. The amendment was referred to the Finance Committee.

President Wilder said the matter was one that required consideration, as the Chinese Y. M. C.

A. and other institutions of a similar nature might ask for similar exemptions.

Senator Baldwin stated that the Land Conference Committee had completed its labors.

A motion to adjourn to Monday was lost and the Senate then adjourned to tomorrow at 10 a. m.

THE REPRESENTATIVES.

After the regular proceedings

Rep. Richards presented a minority report on the Sunday Band

Concerts, as follows:

"As a member of your committee to whom was referred the joint resolution requesting the Minister of Foreign Affairs to order the government band to give concerts Sunday afternoons,

I would now present a minority report recommending the adoption of the resolution."

Cable bill came up on its second reading with report of

committee, as follows:

The Committee on Commerce

to whom was referred the bill for the construction and maintenance of cable in the Pacific, presented

the following report:

"Your Committee on Commerce

to whom was referred Senate bill

12 have had the matter under careful consideration and are unable to recommend the passage of the bill for the following reasons:

"The bill does not clearly show on whose behalf or for whose account the cable or cables

are to be built, whether of the government or of the company that constructs or operates them.

"It does not expressly provide,

as it should at its connection in the Hawaiian Islands in the case of a foreign cable shall be on the island of Oahu, or some other habitable island of the Republic.

"It does not limit the time or period in case the cable is owned by a company that the contract with the company shall be made for.

"It does not provide for obtaining an estimate of the cost of the cable itself, of laying it, of maintaining it, of a repair ship and of operating such repair ship.

"The committee recommend the introduction of a new bill, which will remove the objections raised in place of the one before the House."

On the motion to adopt the report Rep. Robertson objected very decidedly on the ground that although the committee made objections to the bill the report pointed out no way in which to remedy them, neither did it offer any suggestions tending to that.

He thought it was the duty of the committee either to present amendments in proper shape or draft a new bill and not merely recommend that a new one be substituted.

Mr. Rycroft said he was certainly in favor of telegraphic communication, yet he wanted to know if the Government had any information about the cost of a cable. He believed that it would cost this Government $500,000 to aid a cable from here to San Francisco. The people of Honolulu were crazy on this cable question, seeming to think that if a copper wire was stretched between here and the Pacific coast gold would run out of the end of it.

The country was as yet undeveloped, outside of Honolulu being a wild country. Five hundred thousand dollars would do more good in developing the country than in laying a cable. This bill empowered the Government to enter into a contract, and he could not see his way clear to committing the country to such an obligation. He thought that the Legislature would do well to aid a cable, but the country was too small to enter into a contract for having a cable laid.

Mr. Robertson had different views on the matter from those held by the member for Puna. The importance of a cable to these islands could not be over-estimated. If we could get a cable by the issuing of half a million of Government bonds it would be well worth the price. This country was lightly taxed, and its debt was comparatively small.

There was not by a great deal so large a population as the country could support, and a cable would, more than almost anything that could be imagined, develop the country.

Rep. Hanuna didn't see anything to get frightened about in the bill. That everything connected with the letting of contracts etc., would be open and public. It would be published in the newspapers and the honorable member from Puna could read all about it or come down and help superintend it. He said there were only two objects that a great many prominent Hawaiians wanted, one was annexation to, and the other telegraphic communication with the United States. That if they could get those things they would be willing to lie down and die. It had been the dream of his life, as it was that of his father before him, to see a cable laid to the United States and he still hoped to see it before he died.

Rep. Winston moved that an amendment be inserted limiting the period of the bill to two years.

Rep. Rycroft wished it understood he was in favor of the bill, that a cable would be the means of extending our commerce and increasing our exports four-fold. What he wanted was that the members should consider the bill very carefully before acting on it.

The first section then passed as in the bill.

In section 2 Rep. Winston moved to insert five years as the term of exemption from taxation. The amendment was lost and the section passed as in the bill.

The remaining sections passed, and the bill went to engrossment, and was made the special order for tomorrow.

Rep. Kamaooha from the committee to whom was referred the petition of residents of Kau for an appropriation for roads reported in favor of referring the matter to the Minister of the Interior.

The committee to whom was referred the joint resolution fixing the amount of compensation for the ex-Labor Commissioners reported favorably, and the resolution passed.

The Joint Resolution on Sunday band concerts was then taken up, together with the majority and minority reports of the committee.

Rep. Hanuna made some very ill-timed and senseless remarks on the matter which resulted in the rest of the members getting "that tired feeling" very badly. He suggested among other things that if the honorable member from Puna would bring down a lot of good looking Puna girls and "lomilomi" the poor tired working men of Honolulu on Sundays they would like it a good deal better; also that the Sunday concerts would degenerate into exhibitions of hula dancing, etc.

Rep. Richards called the member to order finally, and said that if he could not say anything better than the rest he was talking he had better quit.

Rep. Rycroft said he had not been going round with his eyes shut since he had been in Honolulu. He wanted to give the workingman a chance to have a place to go to on Sundays. What the workingman wanted was some change, something to occupy his mind and take him out in the open air. As to the concerts degenerating into beer gardens and so forth, matters could not be any worse than they were now. He knew from actual observation that anyone could get all the whiskey he wanted on Sunday anywhere in the outside districts.

Rep. Kamaooha objected to the concerts on general principles. He thought Honolulu people had music enough from the band on week days.

Rep. McBryde and others wishing to be heard on the subject, the House took a recess to 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. A. W. Keech is visiting friends in Hawaii.

Regular meeting of the Scottish Thistle Club this evening.

Mrs. Wray Taylor left on this morning's steamer to visit friends in Kau.

Rep. Kamaooha indulged in "missionary talk" in the House this morning.

G. D. Freeth left on this morning's steamer for a business trip through Maui.

On the third Saturday in next month, the 22d September, the first regatta under the auspices of the Hawaiian Rowing Association will be held at Pearl Harbor. A junior and a senior crew from each of the three Clubs will participate, making two races with three four-oared shells in each. The public may look forward with interest to Hawaiian Regatta day which is now assured.
